

Year 5/6 Spring 1
Can one person change the world forever?
Nikola Tesla

Welcome to spring term 1! I hope you and the children had an enjoyable, well-deserved Christmas break. I cannot believe we are starting our second full-term already. I was really impressed with the children's efforts before the break, I hope this attitude to learning and perseverance continues and grows even further. This term, we will be continuing with our big question: 'Can one person change the world forever?', with a focus around 'Nikola Tesla'. Above is a summary of what we will be covering in each subject of the curriculum. I was particularly impressed with the children's ability to be able to apply everything we had learned during the first term to answer our big question as a discursive piece of writing during our connection's lessons. This was lovely to see that our children within Blackman class are able to make strong connections across our curriculum to think about the big question, linking it to 'Leonardo Da Vinci' and 'John Harrison'.
