The tree has gone up, Class 1 and Class 2 have started learning their lines and Christmas Fair preparations have started. December is here (almost)! As well as the usual festivities, teachers have got some great learning planned for all our children. We were lucky enough to sit down with our pupils this week and talk about their writing, it was fantastic to hear them talk about reading and writing with great enthusiasm; a big thank you to you all for encouraging this at home and continuing to listen your children read and talk about books with them.

Open Morning

It was great to welcome parents to our school last week to join us for Collective Worship and Maths lessons. The children all really enjoyed it, and were so excited to have you there with us. We are all already looking forward to our next Open Morning after Christmas.

Visitors

We have been fortunate enough to have 2 parents share their knowledge with us this week. Class 2 had a talk all about farming which they learnt so much from and were so enthusiastic when creating a recount of it. Class 1 had some super cute, furry friends join them. They were able to see the kittens and ask some questions. As I am sure you can imagine this caused great excitement, with adults as well! If you have any experiences or knowledge you feel our children would enjoy, please don't be shy and talk to your children's teachers.

Maths Workshop

Thank you to all those who attended the Maths Workshop and came to speak to us about it after. There are some print outs of the presentation in the foyer, so feel free to grab one if you couldn't make it. If you have any questions or want to discuss this further, please just ask Mr Pasqualino.

Reading Challenge

There has been some fantastic pictures of children reading in unusual places and lots of House Points have been earned! These can be emailed in throughout the year to the office.

We are setting a new challenge! We would like your child to create a scene from their favorite book, you can get as creative as you like with this. It could be a picture or a model made out of anything you wish. The only rule is the model or picture has to be able to fit on an A4 piece of paper. Children have until the end of term to create their masterpieces, with all entrants receiving House Points, and an extra prize for the winning scene!

Christmas Fair

Once again thank you to all those who have shown an interest in helping out at the Christmas Fair, a letter was sent out this week with details about how you can help either at the event or before. We are already receiving some cuddly toys for a teddy tombola which is great - keep them coming.
